A Woman's Idea of Money.
What is money anyhow? It's desirable only because it will get you whatever you want.
It will buy a bunch of red roses that will make Jennie smile and give you a kiss for them.
It will give you hours of untold happiness when it is used to buy a delightful story book.
It will get a lovely frock and make the woman you love as pretty as a picture.
It will also get you the picture if you want it.
It will permit you to hear beautiful music and see fine acting.
It will, in many cases, make well the sick and bring joy to those who have it not.
It will build asylums for little orphans, homes for old people and hospitals for those who are crippled.
It will care for the "babies" who have no one to care for them and make them good, strong, healthy citizens.
It will build temples to honor God and where man may say a prayer.
It will do all this, but after all it will be of little worth, unless it brings two pleasures, to the buyer and to the seller. Money, next to love, is the best thing in the world to have, and when you get it just remember you can't take it away with you when you die, and so spend it judiciously—that is, where it will give you the greatest happiness.

A Great Newspaper Enterprise.
It has so happened every time we have been obliged to kill a man in self-defense that the coroner and everybody else was in a great hurry, and that the body was buried in the most convenient place. Last week we were struck with the idea of getting them all together in one common spot, and we bought an acre sand-lot of Colonel Hawkins for a ground work. Our green-eyed contemporary got a hint of what was up and he went blowing around town and did his best to head us off. He failed, however, and during the thaw we had the five bodies taken up, removed to what is already known as "The Kicker Corral," and each grave designated with a white head-board with the name painted neatly thereon. In the spring we shall see that each grave is covered with trailing arbutus—that is, if arbutus will trail in this country. The names as they appear on the head-boards are: "Mose," "Pete," "Jim," "Sam" and "Jack." We shall probably add a couple more to the list before the last of July, whatever that is.—Arizona Kicker.

He Had Her Before.
"Does the razor hurt you?" asked the colored barber in the uninterested, perfunctory manner usual to him.
"Yes, it does, most decidedly," was the emphatic reply.
The remark brought no change in the situation, and the man in the chair said:
"I told you that the razor hurt me."
"Yes sah," was the mildly spoken rejoinder, "free or fohoddah gemmen said de same ting terday."

ONE of the Buffalo Bill party made an Italian editor believe that there was a wild animal in America called the "huggerwug," which crept upon men to eat their livers out and leave the rest of the body untouched, and that editor warns his readers that if any come to America they must sleep in a tin corset to protect their livers.

It isn't always safe for printers to abbreviate important words. The following is a case in point: The books of a Sunday-school library connected with a Baptist church in Danvers, Mass., are embellished with labels bearing the following legend: "No. —, Dan's Baptist Sunday school."

A SNAKE was discovered coiled up inside a piano at Sulphur Springs, Texas, the other day. It fought valiantly before it was dislodged from its musical home and killed.

At a bear and bull fight in San Diego county, California, the bear had everything its own way, and three bulls were killed.

THERE are 13,000 different kinds of postage stamps used in the world.

FRUITS meet for repentance—Green apples and watermelons.

Or every million people in the world 800 are blind.

The leading question now is: "Are you provided with a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, as a safe guard against an attack of bowel complaint during the summer months?" No family can afford to risk being without this invaluable medicine during the hot weather. It is almost certain to be needed, and is a friend indeed when required, and is a friend indeed when required, and is a friend indeed when required.

Over in Illinois they have been trying to assassinate a poet. The dastardly deed is not attributed to a rival poet. There is no report from the readers.

Wanted to Be Kicked.

He looked so glum and down in the mouth, says the New York Sun, that the half dozen of us concluded that he had lost his wife or met with some other distressing calamity, and so, after leaving Elmira, one of the boys slid into half of his seat and began:

"My friend, you appear to be ill."

"No, not exactly ill," was the reply.

"Wife dead?"

"Never had one."

"Heard any bad news?"

"No."

"If there is anything our crowd can do for you we shall be glad of the opportunity."

"Will you?"

"Of course."

"Well, then, I wish you'd begin on me and kick until the last man can't swing his leg for another lift, for of all the born fools in America I'm the biggest!"

"Why, what's the matter?"

"We had an accident on this road about three weeks ago, and a lot of us lost our baggage. We were told to file our claims, and I've just been down to get my money."

"Well, wasn't that all right?"

"All right! Why, jab my eyes, if I wasn't fool enough to hand in a true list of about $6 worth of old duds, when a neighbor of our's who lost two pairs of socks and a box of paper collars stood up and bluffed the railroad out of $74.25, and they even asked him to take a drink after he got his money. That's me to a dot. I ain't got no brain in my head. I can't see through a fishnet. I'll never know anything until it's kicked into me, and I'm ready to be booted the whole length of York state and give my only pair of suspenders to the last man that lifts me!"

Is It Any Wonder

that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery outsells all other blood and liver medicines, since it possesses such superior curative properties as to warrant its manufacturers in supplying it to the people (as they are doing, through druggists) under conditions such as no other medicine is sold under, viz: that it must either benefit or cure the patient, or the money paid for it will be promptly returned. It cures all diseases arising from deranged liver, or from impure blood, as biliousness, "liver complaint," all skin and scalp diseases, salt-rheum, tetter, scrofulous sores and swellings, fever-sores, hip joint disease and kindred ailments.

There is a great demand for metal furniture in Australia, not only for household use but in places of business, school-houses, etc. The demand is caused by the ravages of the white ant, which eats all kinds of wood.

Young women are frequently supposed to have consumption, when the cause of bad health is leucorrhoea, whites, or some other female trouble. The system needs iron and uterine tonics, all of which are combined in Dr. Dromgoole's English Female Bitters. A bottle taken according to directions will convince you of the truth of this statement. If your druggist don't keep it, write Dr. J. P. Dromgoole, Louisville, Ky.

Mansur on Protection.

The following is the definition of our congressman, Hon. Charles Mansur, on "Modern Protection": "I define it to be an open confession that the man or men protected by their own energy and capital can not make a living unless the strong arm of the law, by the exercise of its taxing power, comes to their aid and exerts money from the many to give it to them, the few, as a bonus to run their business and build up their fortunes. This, and this only, is modern protection. Is it just? Is it just? To this the farmers, comprising 44 per cent. of our people, will soon say "no" in such terms as will never be again mistaken in this land of ours. I sincerely believe that the doctrine of levying a tax, so boldly and so freely avowed during the present debate, for the purposes of preventing and checking importations, intending thereby to enable a few manufacturers to build up great fortunes and to still further fleece our toiling millions, instead of being properly laid and adjusted for raising revenue, is as unconstitutional legislation as was ever perpetrated by this or any other legislative body that ever made a law."

A Georgia editor has an old Confederate spec, manufactured for the government in 1864, just before the war ended. The sole is fully three-quarters of an inch thick, and is made of poplar wood, evidently shaped with a hatchet or drawing knife. The upper is attached to the sole with a strip of rawhide, running entirely around the shoe, the leather being held to the sole with large carpet tacks. The upper is of rough cowhide, dressed only on the inside.

"Lex is over," said Jones to Smith. "Yes, and can't you pay me that dollar I lent you?" was the reply.
